Consideration for Product Photography:

Setup Time: The studio setup time and achieving the required results for the first trial image are included in the total hired time. Generally, complete setup time is around 30 to 40 minutes.

Quality First: We prioritize delivering excellence and crafting powerful visuals that showcase your product's properties, dimensions, details, and finish at their best.

Image Quantity & Complexity: While the table indicates a target "Products Quantity," the actual number of images delivered will depend on the complexity of the shoot, the time spent, and the number of angles or combinations desired within your hired time slot. Reflective and large products may take more time for lighting and placements, potentially affecting the overall quantity within the allotted time. For highly complex products, a dedicated session or full-day shoot might be required to capture exceptional shots, as quality matters more than mere quantity. We aim to maximize output while maintaining top-notch quality.

Open Communication: Transparency is central to our process. We keep you informed and proactively discuss any adjustments to ensure the final images meet your vision. Your satisfaction is our priority!

Pricing Adjustments & Final Cost:

The final cost may vary based on the actual time required to achieve the desired results and the complexity of the shoot.

We will provide a transparent logistics plan either before or at the time of shooting the project, and the final cost will reflect the actual time spent based on our agreed plan.
