Consideration for Industrial Photography:

Quality First: While we aim to deliver a specific number of high-quality images within the estimated timeframe, industrial photography results can vary depending on factors like complexity of the shoot location & camera and lights setup. Keep in mind sometimes a full day shoot is required for even 10 good images.

Focus on Value: Our priority is capturing the best possible visuals for your project, which may require us to adjust the timeline or image quantity slightly.

Open Communication: We'll keep you updated throughout the process and discuss any potential adjustments to ensure we meet your needs.

Cost Flexibility: The final cost may vary based on the actual time required to achieve the desired results. We'll provide a transparent logistics before or at time of shooting the project.
